Elias came to us a marshmallow boy, and will soon leave us as a man in miniature. The Eliminator has retained his gentle nature outside the dojo, but once the fight begins, he is a starving dog on the prowl for raw meat.

In October of 2005, our orange belt took the Little Tokyo Tournament by storm, plowing through three competitors to take the 6 year old Southern California championship. Utilizing rapid fire combinations, jolting low kicks, and an uncanny ability to absorb punishment to the groin, Elias won his 1st major tournament. Sad to say, The Eliminator will be leaving Eagle Rock in a forced march to the deserts of Arizona. Good luck, Eliminator; L.A.'s loss is Phoenix's gain.

Postscript: The desert experiment has ended. The Eliminator is back amongst friends in Eagle Rock.
